

Going To Brewing In The Basement – Saturday Daytime

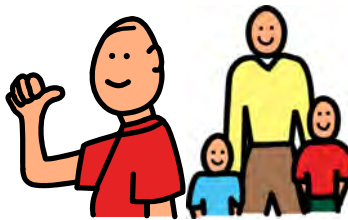

Barbican Centre is an Art Centre in London.

Touretteshero is a superhero

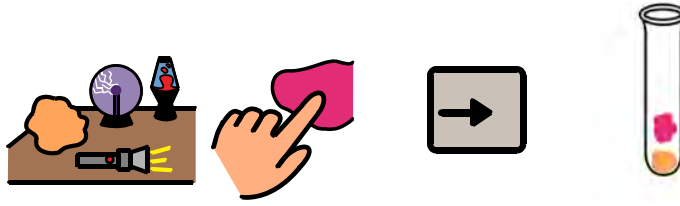

Barbican Centre and Touretteshero are putting on an event for children and adults called Brewing In The Basement.

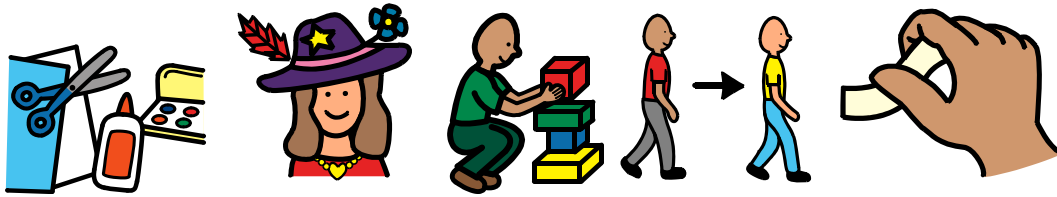

I am going to go with my family, friends or group.

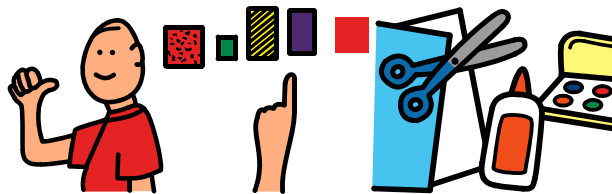

Touretteshero will give me a plastic test tube when I arrive.

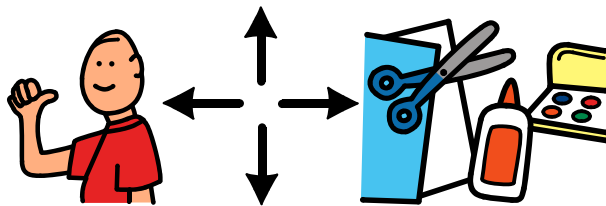

I will collect different sensory things from each activity and put them in my test tube.

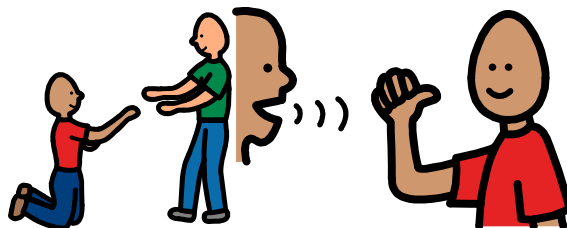

The activities include: dressing up, making things and following a maze made of tape.

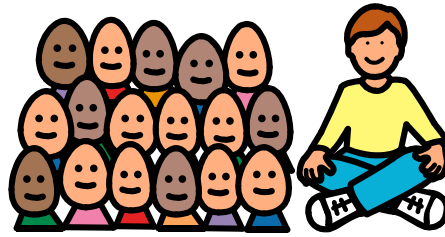

I can choose which activities I do.

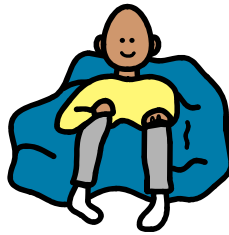

I can choose when I want to do a different activity

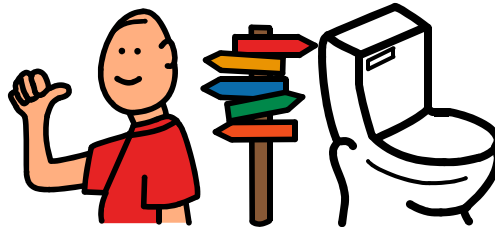

If I need help I can ask an adult helper.

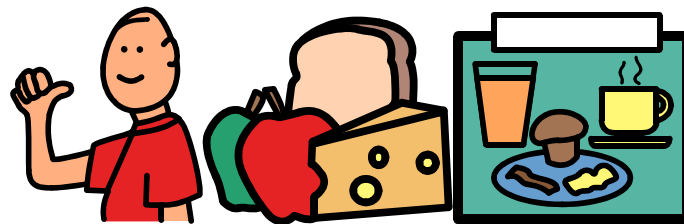

There will be busy spaces and quiet spaces.

If I want to I can go to the chill-out space to relax.

If I need the toilet I can follow the signs or ask a helper where they are.

I will bring food or I can buy it from the café

At 4pm the activities will stop. We will come together and show each other our costumes and potions.

We will go upstairs for the parade. We can use the stairs or the lift. During the parade we will blow bubbles and cheer.

Brewing In The Basement will finish at 5pm.

I might like to say goodbye to the people I have met
