The Savoury Side

* * *

Classic Coronation Chicken

Our exploration begins with a familiar flavour and scent: The turmeric in our conservatory is just one of the spices required to make our curry paste and gives this classic recipe its vibrant yellow colour.

Scottish Smoked Salmon with lemon & dill cream cheese

Dill, closely related to fennel, is grown on the rooftop of the Guildhall School of Music and Drama. It gives life and freshness to our salmon & cream cheese.

Free-range Staveley Farm Egg Mayonnaise with shallot & crushed black peppercorns

Piper Nigrum (black pepper) is a flowering vine in the family Piperaceae, cultivated for its fruit, which when dried are known as peppercorns. It is native to south India and is extensively cultivated there and elsewhere in tropical regions. In our Conservatory you will find vines in one of the beds along the pathway, so keep your eye out for them!

British Baked Ham with spiced pear & ginger chutney

Pear is a type of deciduous tree that belongs to the family of roses and there are over 3,000 varieties. Zingiber Officinale (ginger) is grown in abundance in our conservatory and when infused with pear, makes delicious chutney.

The Sweet Side

Coffee & Mascarpone Eclair

Coffee has been a staple in our garden for 30 years and is terrific with velvety mascarpone in a choux pastry eclair.

Passionfruit Macaron

Our Passiflora Edulis (passion fruit vine) lives up against the wall of our gardener's office!

Apple Almandine Cake with toasted almond crunch

Almonds are one of the lowest calorie nuts and are 100% reliant on bees to grow. Did you know we have our own beehives at the Barbican?

Milk Chocolate & Banana Delice

Our gardeners have been successfully growing bananas for the last five years. Paired together with chocolate the two are a lovely match.

Plain & Fruit Scones with strawberry jam & clotted cream

It is too warm for strawberries in the conservatory, but we grow them outside. They are the first fruit to ripen each spring and are technically not berries, they're accessory fruit and the average strawberry has 200 seeds.
